Excerpts from Cedar Creek Country Club Bylaws:

Section 1 – Membership

A) Membership in this corporation shall be determined by the Board of Directors, without regard to race, religion, gender, age, or national origin. Membership will not exceed four hundred and fifty (450) memberships (not to include social memberships). Family membership shall consist of a married couple and their children or wards under the age of 25 years. Parents, living in the same household as their children, over 70 years of age, and being considered dependents of the membership holder, shall enjoy the same privileges as a ward under 25 years. Individual memberships may be held by persons over the age of twenty-one (21) years.

Section 1, (A) – Non-Voting Membership

(5) All other memberships are termed non-voting associate memberships and are those memberships allowed under a special, limited time offer, as approved by the Board of Directors. Non-voting members have full membership privileges with the exceptions that they may not vote on any issue coming before the membership at a general or special membership meeting nor are they privileged to vote in the Board of Directors election. Non-voting members shall not be eligible or serve on the Board of Directors.

Miscellaneous Membership Information

- Resignation – Applicant may resign from the club by giving advance written notice. All dues and other charges for which the applicant is liable are due upon the effective date of the resignation. Any past due charges will be referred for collection.
- Divorce – In the unfortunate event of divorce, “The club membership will be assigned to the party who receives the club membership in the divorce decree. A copy of that portion of the divorce decree will be required by the club and kept on file for a period of three years.” If the divorce settlement does not address which of the parties receives the membership in the divorce, the two parties involved are required to settle this by mutual consent and furnish the club with a signed statement to the fact.
- Notice – In filing this application, I understand that all bills are due and payable by the 15th day of the month following billing, and I agree to pay all monthly charges when due; failure to do so will result in termination of club privileges. I have read and understand each section of this application and agree to the terms of membership as presented.
